

Site Name: Seattle Home

Location: Seattle, Washington, USA

Project Overview

Paul and his wife used to drink unreliable municipal water and were inconvenienced every time they went to the store to buy bottled water. Lacking the peace of mind they needed, they began the search for a drinking water solution that would create healthy, high-quality drinking water and monitor it's safety.

Now, at their home in Washington, Paul and his wife don't worry about the chemicals in their municipal supply or bottled water. They create their water with SOURCE and monitor their Hydropanels' performance with the SOURCE user app- giving them peace of mind knowing their water is truly perfect.

SOURCE Usage and Satisfaction

“I honestly can't thank the Zero Mass Water team enough. They provided me and my wife the security and power of being independent from the grid. They provided me with a lifetime of clean water.”

- Paul B., Homeowner